QUICK GUIDE · BLUETOOTH

Play Tonada over Bluetooth

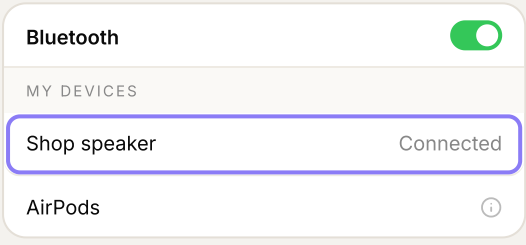

Play from the Tonada app on your phone to a Bluetooth speaker. Pair the speaker once, then choose it in the player.

HOW IT CONNECTS

Your phone
With the Tonada app

BLUETOOTH
About 10 metres

Your speaker
Switched on and paired

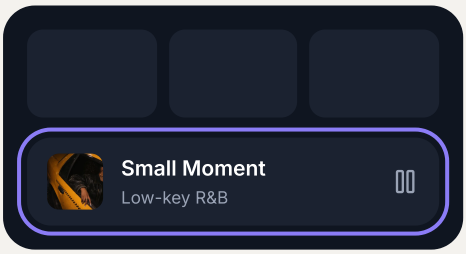

STEP 1 OF 4

1 Pair the speaker with your phone

1. Put the speaker in pairing mode. Its manual tells you how.
2. On your phone, open Settings, then Bluetooth.
3. Tap the name of the speaker in the list.

You do this once. After that, your phone remembers the speaker.

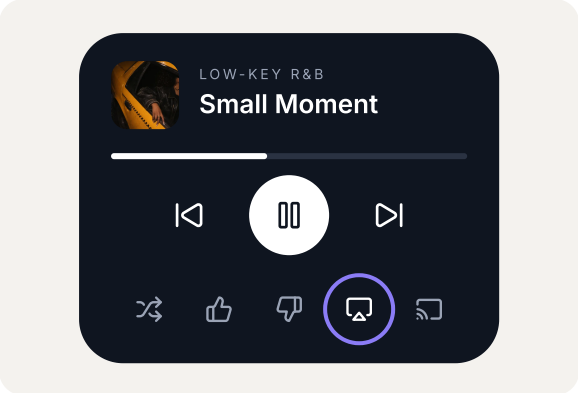

STEP 2 OF 4

2 Start your music

Open the Tonada app and start your music.

Tap the player bar at the bottom of the screen to open the full player.

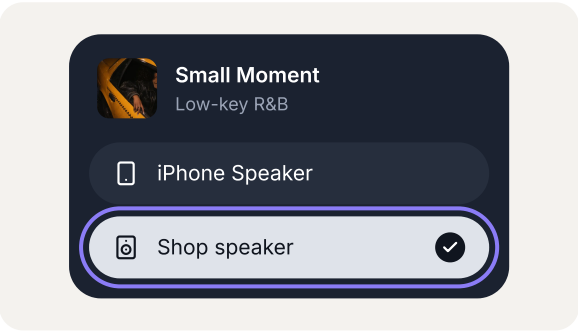

STEP 3 OF 4

3 Tap the audio output icon

The icon is in the row below the play button, after the thumbs.

It shows where the sound plays now.

- Phone speaker or AirPlay
- Bluetooth
- Wired output

STEP 4 OF 4

4 Choose your speaker

A list of outputs opens. Tap your Bluetooth speaker.

The music moves to the speaker, and the icon changes to the Bluetooth symbol.

To go back, open the list again and choose your phone.

GOOD TO KNOW

The phone is the player	Keep it charged and leave the Tonada app open. A phone call pauses the music.
For music that plays all day	Use the Tonada Player or Sonos. Bluetooth suits a small space or a temporary setup.

TROUBLESHOOTING

Quick fixes

The speaker is not in the list?

Check that it is switched on and paired with your phone.

The music cuts out?

Move the phone closer. Check that no other phone is connected to the speaker.

No sound at all?

Turn up the volume on the phone and on the speaker.

Need a hand? We're happy to help. hello@tonada.com